

Umfrage zur Umstellung auf Englisch

Beitrag von „CKR“ vom 1. April 2010 11:23

Being a teacher for English as a second language I do appreciate the idea and I would definitely like to discuss professional topics with teachers from other countries. However, I can of course understand the objections of other teachers who do not speak, write and read in English as often as I do. The idea of having an extra international forum therefore is appealing but I think it will not reach the size and relevance of the German forum when only some of the forum members actually take part in it.