The Learn and Serve America National Service-Learning Clearinghouse has collected a full page of resources and tools to help you and your school develop a service-learning or community service project to assist with the tsunami relief effort.

You'll find lesson plans on fundraising, tsunamis, and the culture of the areas affected , organizations to join and stories of what students around the world are doing to help.

We have also included an opportunity for you to submit your ideas and stories regarding the effort.
