As U.K. Beckons Truck Drivers, Many in Poland Say 'No Thanks'

A special visa offer, aimed at forestalling a supply chain fiasco during the holidays, goes begging for takers.

"[...] Some drivers who have worked in Britain said the country had become more xenophobic since Brexit, which took effect in January 2020. The campaign to leave the European Union was championed loudest by the United Kingdom Independence Party, whose leader, Nigel Farage, pushed for a law that would ensure 'British jobs for British workers.' In 2013, he warned of a 'Romanian crime wave.' [...]"
